SUBJECT: OMT GmbH to Manage European Distribution Relationships for Walkmed Infusion Products

Denver, Colorado January 23, 2009 – WalkMed Infusion, an innovative infusion technology company, is pleased to announce that OMT GmbH, a leading medical device distributor and manufacturer in Germany, has assumed responsibility of distribution and sales relationships in the European Union. Walkmed Infusion manufactures a line of ambulatory infusion pumps and disposables for use in Europe.

The agreement gives WalkMed Infusion a central point for distribution in Europe for its European customers. As WalkMed Infusion enhances and expands its line of ambulatory infusion products, it will work cohesively with OMT to expand its distribution and sales relationships. The relationship with OMT will provide European customers with increased responsiveness and awareness of the needs of the European market.

“OMT currently distributes WalkMed products in Germany and is an important strategic partner for WalkMed as we expand our territories and product lines throughout Europe,” said Ross Kurz, Senior Vice President of WalkMed Infusion. “With OMT, we have a central warehouse and order fulfillment facility in Germany. WalkMed products will be ordered and shipped to European customers from Germany instead of the United States. This will provide greater flexibility as we work to serve the needs of our customers in the European Union.”

WalkMed Infusion will work closely with its European customers to ensure a smooth transition of order fulfillment and all other customer needs.
